

BLOCKADE IN BROADWAY.THE LOWER STREET IMPASSABLE FOR THREE HOURS YESTERDAY.*No Thoroughfares from Park Place to Rector Street—Imagine Horse Cars There!—How a Small Boy Crossed—Side Streets Blocked.

For three hours, yesterday afternoon, all Broadway between Rector street and Park place was blocked by vehicles. The blockade extended into many of the intersecting streets. On the west side the lines extended down to the river in nearly all the streets. On the east side Fulton street was the only thoroughfare that was not open. Between the upper end of the Post Office and Rector street there was an almost solid mass of horses and vehicles—trucks, carts, carriages, and omnibuses. In the thick of the blockade were many omnibuses containing passengers who could not reach the sidewalk, and who kept their seats although the train of wagons moved but once or twice in every quarter of an hour, and then only live or ten feet before stopping. The omnibuses nearer the sidewalks were in every instance empty.
